It is people who purchase our products or services, work alongside us, determine our success and provide us with a sense of identity, fulfilment and self-worth. But, how do we communicate effectively with each other when we are surrounded with such diversity, and others seem to live by a different 'set of rules?' Today, Stephen will share the common denominators of all human behaviour and provide practical and relevant solutions that will multiply your level of influence.
4.30pm – 6.30pm Welcome Function in the Exhibition Area

11.00am - 11.30am	New and Emerging Technologies in the Events Space Scott Millar Young entrepreneur CEO of Start Up company BOP (age 18) With hundreds of events happening across the country every day, it can be difficult to stand out from the rest and create an event that your guests will remember and talk about after leaving. Scott Millar has been working with event technology since he was 15 years old and has seen some truly stunning examples of event technology that wows guests. In this session, Scott will be sharing some of his discoveries and how they can be applied to a range of different events.	Changing Hats - We Are More Than Just Event Planners! Gareth Lewis - Freelance Creative Producer Russ Macumber – Senior Digital Strategist, Impressive Digital Agency Sam Mutimer - Founder and Director of Social Media, Think Tank Social Lisa Renn - Accredited Practising Dietitian, Body Warfare Nutrition This session will provide delegates with an understanding of digital analytics, nutrition, social media and content production from specialists within these areas.
11.30am - 12.00pm	Creating Meaningful Event Experiences: How to Use Play and Gamification for Audience Engagement and Interaction Dr. Marigo Raftopoulos CEO & Founder Strategic Innovation Lab Events can often be a predictable, one-dimensional and a solitary experience for delegates. The integration of gamification into your event can add a deeper, richer and more memorable customer experience. In this session Marigo will present how to use playful and gameful design to facilitate content, brand and people discovery for your delegates. At a deeper level, we will also discuss how you can use your event as a forum for research, collaboration, and problem solving for your key stakeholders and sponsors.	Each specialist will discuss specifically what their role involves, what are the emerging issues/trends within their specific areas and how their specific sectors are developing into the future. Each panel member will also discuss their specific role and its relationship with the event/conference sector, discussing how they work together, what an event/conference person needs to understand/know to undertake their role and the parameters around developing this resource in-house or to out-source to a consultant.
12.00pm – 12.30pm	First Aid for your Patrons, It Might Not Seem as Important, Until it's Absolutely Critical Rob McManus General Manager, Event Health Services St John Ambulance Australia (VIC) Inc. You're an expert, you run market leading events but have you considered who is there to help if someone gets sick or if a significant incident occurs? First aid and medical services organisations are an essential element of your planning and

	execution of a successful conference. They enhance your delegate experience, give you subject matter expertise and quality reporting. When minutes matter, it's essential you have someone who is trained, prepared and equipped to respond. Reduce your risk, enhance your event, engage experts.
12.30pm – 1.30pm	Lunch in the Exhibition Area
1.30pm – 3.00pm	Session 3: Changing Channels Room: Goldfields Theatre Chair: Mike Pickford Sponsored by 	Session 4: Game Changers Room: Eureka Room Chair: Yvonne Adele
1.30pm – 2.00pm	Using Digital Marketing to Drive Real Outcomes Tanya Williams Digital Conversations We live in a clickable world and the way we market events and conferences needs to change just to keep up with the increase in competition. Your marketing content, messaging and imagery needs to be highly relevant to your target audience and your goal should be to stop the scroll. Understanding what you should do V's all the options you could do will make a difference in your business outcomes.	Fast Case Studies - Idea sharing, delegate led quickfire session Join this session and become part of the delegate sharing economy at this year's conference. High energy and fast paced, moderated by Yvonne Adele this will be an excellent opportunity for delegates to learn from their peers through sharing their own experiences. Presenters will get 10 minutes to present their brilliant breakthrough moment, followed by questions from the audience. If you haven't submitted your case study yet bring your story with you, we all know it can often be the little things that make a huge difference! And as a bonus, this interactive peer-to-peer format is also an excellent way to build new connections within the industry.
2.00pm – 2.30pm	Man + Machine + Marketing. The Intersection of Marketing and Technology Madeleine Preece Director Neonormal Technology has advanced in leaps and bounds, but there are still insurmountable hurdles when it comes to connecting with humans. Marketing is evolving, but it struggles to make an impact using the 'tried and true' methods that have become white noise to an over-stimulated, over-indexed audience. Both are entirely dependent on people — neither exist, function or succeed without human input or human audiences. So how do we keep people at the centre of the ever-changing marketing landscape?
2.30pm – 3.00pm	How to Keep Your Flagship Events Fresh Mark Hollis Head of Strategic Projects Jetts Fitness This session will focus on the key strategies used to keep fresh an annual

	conference, with the same delegates and leave them wanting more. How do you keep things fresh and new each time without throwing out the things that have worked previously? How do you continue to exceed delegate expectations each time when the bar has already been raised? How to communicate the key messages of a business in a way that is engaging and memorable each and every time is a key challenge Jetts understands.
3.00pm - 3.30pm	Afternoon Tea in the Exhibition Area

8.25am – 8.30am	Opening – Yvonne Adele
8.30am – 8.50am	Be Challenged - Meditainment	Sponsored by
8.50am - 9.30am	The Power of Advertising and Creativity Andrew Baxter Senior Advisor, KPMG and Adjunct Professor, The University of Sydney Business School 80 per cent of people think unlocking creativity is critical to business growth. It's no wonder. Creative thinking has sparked global concepts like Disney, McDonald's, Starbucks, Apple, IKEA and Google. Creative advertising has made brands famous, helped elect prime ministers, created vernacular in popular culture, and driven powerful human movements like Earth Hour. And with organisations under more pressure than ever from shareholders to drive growth, there's never been a better time to turn to the power of creativity. Particularly when McKinsey, the IPA (Institute of Practitioners in Advertising), Deloitte and Enders have recently published papers proving the effect creativity does have on growth. So how do the successful companies instil and utilise creativity to unlock growth? Particularly in an era where artificial intelligence is taking over, creative thinking is no longer taught in 3 out of 4 government primary schools, and many Boards and senior leaders are still not comfortable with the subjectivity of ideas, preferring the certainty of science and statistics.	Sponsored by
9.30am – 10.00am	Start With You - Tune-in, Step Up & Lead Yourself First Belinda Brosnan CEO Belinda Brosnan International Before you even contemplate leading others, you need to have the courage and curiosity to lead yourself first. In this keynote, Belinda will have the audience “tuning-in” to leverage their leadership capacity by moving away from autopilot modes of operation through awareness and into abundance. Shift your leadership up a gear by becoming resourceful, responsive, decisive and emotionally aware in your leadership.
10.00am - 10.30am	Morning Tea in the Exhibition Area

10.30am - 12.30pm	Session 5: Changing How We Work Room: Goldfields Theatre Chair: Alison Petrie	Session 6: Changing Outcomes Room: Eureka Room Chair: Mary Sparksman
10.30am – 11.00am	4 Key Areas to Secure Your Event Trevor Gardner CEO EventsAIR There are many risks to a modern event that can be catastrophic if exploited by the wrong people. As event organizers, it is important we diligently protect our events on multiple fronts. As risks increase, data protection regulations and penalties are ramping up on a global scale and impacting marketing and communications previously relied upon by event managers to scale up attendance at events. Combined with increased security requiring access control at events along with web hacking, credit card fraud and identification theft, event managers are constantly faced with new challenges. With his insight in major recent events including Gold Coast Commonwealth Games, the Pope's visit to Ireland and APEC 2018, Trevor will discuss how meeting planners can help prevent these occurrences, maintain compliance to regulations and design security into the foundation of their events.	Smart Work Dermot Crowley Director Adapt Productivity This practical session goes beyond simple tricks and tips for MS Outlook. It presents a system for managing your time, priorities and emails using MS Outlook, and enables participants to implement what they have learnt the minute they get back to their desks. We move between time management theory and implementation strategies with a focus on task management, calendar management and email management.
11.00am – 11.30am	Why Cyber Security Matters to You Bruce Matthews Department of Defence	Thinking Outside the Box: Leading Innovation and Change Tania de Jong AM Founder and CEO Creative Universe, Creative Australia and Creative Innovation Global This era of globalisation is unleashing a massive wave of technological, economic and sociological change. The robots are coming and humans will need to be more creative and innovative than ever before. Empowered people and groups are thinking 'outside the box' and challenging the established order in new ways never before imaginable – from building new business models and social enterprises to challenging old institutions. Tania will help you develop creative, intuitive, right-brained and agile mindsets, think 'outside the box' and understand the power of 'positive human collisions', prepare for and manage in times of massive uncertainty, disruption and change, integrate feminine power with masculine wisdom and celebrate diversity and build inclusive, engaged communities.

11.30am – 12.30pm	Navigating the Neuroscience of Change For Better Client Outcomes Anneli Blundell Director Anneli Blundell Our clients are facing a world of unprecedented change and complexity. New systems, new products, changing workforces, can all combine to create emotional and operational chaos. All of which can leak into our work with clients when organising their conferences. This session explores the neuroscience behind our emotional response to change. What’s happening in the brain and how that is driving our behaviour. We explore a model for change that quickly diagnoses your personal perspective on change, the impact of this and the levers that will be most effective in building behavioural flexibility around change.	Ongoing Change - Venues Campfire Session: Venues - Ongoing Change, Working Together Facilitated by Anne Gill The conversation between venues and PCO's continues at this year's conference with a Campfire Session focusing on affordability and access. Expert facilitator Anne Gill joins us again to moderate a two-way discussion between a panel of industry representatives and the PCO community. They will explore the dynamics of supply and demand, and where the conference and convention business sits within this. They'll also take a look at affordability expectations, how we are positioning Australia as a destination and how competitive are we on a global scale. The session will be a great opportunity to make important industry connections, and discover ways all bodies can be working more closely together to achieve more as a sector.
12.30pm – 2.00pm	Lunch in the Exhibition Area
2.00pm – 4.00pm	Plenary Session - Goldfields Theatre
2.00pm – 2.02pm	Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre (MCEC) Message
2.02pm – 2.45pm	Want to be Agile? Get Yourself Off Autopilot Craig Davis Co-founder and CMO Sendle.com In a world of accelerating change and monumental challenges the ability to be agile is vital for survival in the workplace, let alone success. But what exactly is agility and how do you develop it? The good news is that agility is a trainable skill - a mindset that we can learn to access, practice and get better at. But first we have to get ourselves off “autopilot”. That self-limiting state in which we operate based on old habits and assumptions that we can't seem to shake. Craig will explain where the idea of agility comes from, and how companies like Google, Spotify and Netflix have built their success on it. He'll share what he has learned about agility by co-founding Sendle, one of Australia's most innovative and disruptive digital startups. If you want to be more agile you'll need to enter a whole new world of awareness and emotional intelligence where agility, happily, is an outcome.
2.45pm – 3.30pm	Fire and Ice: Purpose, Fear and Resilience From the Smallest Girl in the Desert Samantha Gash Samantha outlines her methodology in tackling giant goals in uncertain environments. Insights on purpose, execution under duress, and resilience are valuable for any organisation seeking to move into new and uncertain territory - or to push themselves beyond their comfort zone.	Sponsored by
3.30pm – 3.40pm	Official Close
